

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

An information attaching device for attaching information to an image containing a plurality of photographed objects, and acquiring information-attached image. The 5 information attaching device includes an information attaching part for attaching different information to each of a plurality of regions in the image that respectively contain the plurality of photographed objects, and acquiring the information-attached image.

10